Enrolled Nurse Transition to Practice Program
A life-changing journey
A life-changing journey
As one of Australia’s most respected home nursing and healthcare providers, RDNS will provide you with endless opportunities to experience community nursing at its best and embark on a life-changing journey.

Start your journey today
As an RDNS Enrolled Nurse, everyday you will deliver positive change to people’s lives, by providing them with professional nursing care in a place where they feel most at ease – home.

Drawing on the support and advice of your personal and highly experienced preceptor, you’ll be challenged to call on all of your skills, while making significant and lasting contributions to people’s wellbeing.

You will assist your clients to become more involved in their own healthcare, enhance their independence and guide them to a better quality of life.

With your own laptop, mobile phone and access to the best possible resources and training, you’ll be autonomous on the road in your RDNS vehicle, but always supported by your preceptor and colleagues.

Our EN Transition to Practice Program is a truly unique opportunity to experience the diverse, challenging and richly rewarding world of community nursing.

From graduates to seasoned professionals, RDNS has something for you now and something to inspire you tomorrow.

Education & Learning Centre
At RDNS, we’re committed to supporting the development of people at the frontline of home-base healthcare and ageing in place.

The RDNS Education and Learning Centre (ELC) is a centre of excellence in community health education and clinical practice. We provide a range of courses, including accredited units of competency and in-service programs.

The ELC is committed to equipping people with the right skills and expertise, to help meet the healthcare challenges of our time, while achieving success in their chosen field.

Our easy-to-use clinical and non-clinical resources support continuous improvements in client care and ensure staff, and the organisations they work for, can better respond to a diverse range of client needs.

If you wish to see your skills improve, your confidence grow and your career take off, then start a journey with RDNS through our Enrolled Nurse – Transition to Practice Program.

What does the RDNS Enrolled Nurse – Transition to Practice Program offer?
At RDNS we know that our most important resource is you, so throughout your journey you’ll enjoy the benefits of:

- A Registered Nurse Preceptor for the entire program
- Exposure to different clients and environments
- Study days include the following areas: continence dementia, diabetes, medication, pain and wound management

- Professional development days where you have the chance to spend time with a senior nurse in an area of your choosing e.g. wound care, diabetes, continence, HIV, palliative care
- Salary packaging up to $16,050 plus meal and entertainment care (more money in your pocket)
- Use of RDNS car, laptop and mobile phone for work purposes.